How we work
Alert
The Prime minister, representatives of the business community as well as any other member of the Economic Council can inform the Economic Council Secretariat about a problem that impedes smooth business development, and cannot be solved by the relevant state authority.

Analysis
Once the problem reaches the Secretariat, the team starts to gather more information on the issue. Facts and data are collected and stakeholders are interviewed. The topic is then prepared for discussions either under a permanent working group (WG) or an ad-hoc one. An expert from the team is assigned to coordinate the process.
Meetings
In due time, the EC members are announced about the planned meeting of the working group and its agenda. The members, those interested to participate, delegate their representatives. If needed, other experts, non EC members, can be invited too. During the meeting, opinions are discussed in an open and non-discriminatory manner. Following the WG, the meetings minutes, indicating the decision reached, are prepared. These are then disseminated to the EC members and, together with the press release are placed online for public access.

Recommendations
The EC Secretariat drafts a note for the Prime Minister informing about the context of the problem and presenting recommendations on the following steps.

PM’ Requests
Prime minister issues an official request to the state authority in charge of the issue discussed, asking to implement the proposed solutions in a well-defined period of time.

Follow-up
In order to support the responsible state institutions in solving the issue according to the PM’s request, the EC Secretariat provides on-demand support (i.e. co-drafting legislation, re-engineering procedures, etc.). The team continues to monitor further evolution and provides needed assistance until the problem is solved. The Secretariat PR expert informs wide public on the process and the results achieved.

Results so far

Short statistics 2016:
- 59 EC members;
- 50 recommendations to PM;
- 49 issues addressed;
- 4 urgent interventions;
- 47 meetings organized;
- 920 participants at meetings;
- 23 press releases.

Contribution to state inspection reform
The Ministry of Economy, with the assistance of IFC, is implementing the state inspection reform, which is supposed to reduce considerably the inspection burden on businesses and reduce the number of inspection bodies from 58 to 18. The set of amendments for the first stage of reform was consulted with the Economic Council before being submitted to the Government for approval. Business community and ECS proposed 7 impactful amendments to the draft, the main being about additional principles for less invasive and costly inspection and more transparency and predictability in setting inspection checklists. The amendments were accepted and approved by the Parliament - Law no. 230, dated 23.09.2016. The proposed amendments are going to contribute significantly to the transparency, accountability and predictability of the inspection requirements and reduce the burden on businesses and diminish corruption practices.

Abolishing powers of police to detect economic offenses under the Administrative Code
An important reason of initiating the inspection reform and moratorium of inspections, introduced by Law no. 18, dated 04.03.2016, was the alarming incidence of reports about harassment of businesses by economic police. Following the discussions with the business community on the platform of the Economic Council, the Secretariat drafted and proposed amendments to the Administrative Code, within the package of amendments related to inspection reforms, and managed to promote them in the Parliament in association with the MPs. The package was adopted by the Parliament, including the proposal of the Secretariat, which abolished the powers of police to detect economic offenses, such as violating the rules of bookkeeping, completing and submitting financial reports, operation of cash register, making cash payments, storing and inventorying mandatory bookkeeping documents. These measures will significantly reduce the risks and costs for businesses.

Abolishing the requirement to use a corporate seal
At the insistence of the members of the EC the draft amendment of legislation on abolishing the requirement to use a corporate seal, after being rejected by the Parliament, returned to the table of the EC for improvements. In coordination with the ESC team, the Ministry of Justice prepared a new draft, which was approved by the Government on 20.04.2016 and was positively voted in the Parliament. The law entered into force on 16.09.2016 (Law no. 160 dated 07.07.2016). Abolishment of the stamp simplifies the life of the entrepreneurs and, as result, reduces their expenses for running a business. The cost for getting the seals amounted to 30% of the cost of opening a company. This reform will have also a positive impact on Starting a Business Indicator within the World Bank Doing Business ranking.

Preventing significant unintended impacts on businesses of draft amendments to the Law on Personal Data Protection
The draft amendments to the legislation on Personal Data Protection, which set high fines for businesses (up to 5.000.000 MDL) and a number of regulatory requirements, could have had significant unintended impacts on business activity. The business community alerted the EC about the draft legislation submitted to the Parliament and the need to revise and consult it with major stakeholders. Following negotiations and debates on the legislative amendments, the EC contributed to recalling of the law from the Parliament for further consultations with the business community representatives in the EC.

Certificates of origin
The issuance of certificates of origin has been a lengthy and burdensome procedure for many years. The biggest problem is that the list of documents for receiving the certificate of origin is not clearly stated and there were numerous cases when businesses reported abuses and demands for various additional documents as proof of origin. Following a number of addresses from the private sector regarding the need to amend the issuance procedure of certificates of origin, and a series of meetings within the Customs Service with various business associations and private sector, with the support of an EU High Level Advisor, Customs Service has developed a draft Government Decree (in Dec 2016), stating a clear procedure of issuing the certificate of origin and the self-declaration. Following the latest discussions with the Customs Service and EC Secretariat, the draft of this Government Decree will be promoted as a part of a joint package with E-Customs Clearance and PVD Regulation (May 2017). The draft Government Decree was submitted by Customs to public authorities for consultations. The draft Government Decree was also presented in a technical meeting of the Trade Facilitation Working Group (2) on February 23.

Solutions for entrepreneurial patent holders

The entrepreneurial patents were supposed to become void in retail trade starting with January 1, 2017, as it is considered as a major source of shadow economy. There were about 16000 patent holders in retail trade. Representatives of the patent holders were protesting on the streets and requesting extension of deadline for validity of patents. The Government proposed to patent holders to register as sole entrepreneurs subject to simplified tax and reporting regime. However, the patent holders considered that registration and requirement to use cash registers would increase the regulatory burden and risks related to regulation to an unacceptable extent. The Prime Minister requested the EC to explore the issue and identify appropriate solutions. Following the meetings with patent holders in the platform of EC, the consensus was achieved to allow an extension for another two years for existing patent holders to operate under the patents in places authorized by local authorities. By the end of this period they will have to register as sole entrepreneurs. The Government approved the amendments on December 5th and the Parliament adopted it on December 16th.

Waste Management Legislation

Recent amendments to Law 1540/1998 on payments for environmental pollution raise the following serious concerns:

- There is no clear mechanism on the application and for the calculation of the pollution taxes;
- Despite recent adjustments to the legislation the administration of the pollution tax by the State Ecological Inspectorate and Tax Service is still not clear and as a result the sanctions mechanism is not transparent;
- The implementation of the extended producer responsibility principle is being delayed as the collective waste management system is not yet operational; and
- The use of pollution taxes for general budget expenditures instead of using these funds for the development and operation/maintenance of the collective waste management systems.

Under the PM Economic Council, numerous meetings have been held to ensure greater transparency on the application and calculation of the pollution tax mechanism, especially for the import of goods.

Expected Results

Simplification of business reporting and elimination of employment record book

ECS and the Ministry of Economy with donor support drafted amendments to the legislation to consolidate reporting related to wages and state mandatory social and medical contributions. The initiative will reduce the number of reports from 5 to 1. As a result, the State Tax Inspectorate becomes the only agency responsible for receiving and processing the consolidated report related to wages. The proposed simplification eliminates overlapping of reported data, reduces the amount of data reported by cca 40% and eliminates the mandatory requirement to keep employment record book. This is going to reduce considerably the administrative costs for businesses and contribute to improving the ranking of Moldova in Doing Business Paying Taxes indicator. Moreover, the proposed solution will enable better tax administration and will help Tax Service fight informal employment and “gray salaries”. The draft was approved by the Government and submitted to the Parliament, where it has been discussed in eight committees by the end of 2016.

Labour Code Amendments
Following the Prime Minister’s initiative on amending the existing Labour Code, a dedicated working group on Labour Code amendments was created under the PM Economic council which includes representatives of business associations, Ministry of Labour and social protection, Trade Unions, Employers Association etc. The draft amendments have been jointly agreed and currently the draft is circulated among the ministries for approval.

Simplification of the procedure of foreign labour migration to Moldova (for example, registration of expats)
At the initiative of the Prime Minister the Economic Council in cooperation with responsible authorities have developed an action plan and identified key issues to be addressed in the process of registration of foreign labour force in the RM. The draft amendments have been discussed with business community and relevant authorities and presented to Government for approval. Currently the draft is ready for Parliament approval.
